Questions

1. I am at a point in my life where I feel more and more conflicted about the lack of visibility of the feminine in Rosa Veritas and the inability to keep the teachings speak to what is happening in the world.
2. I feel an increasing unrest in myself; frustrated for not being able to clearly articulate what is moving me and seeing ways in how I can contribute. How do I connect with the Esoteric teachings in a new way? I am 62 and have a sense there is something that needs completing.
